SmartBlock Insulated Concrete Forms use recycled materials and are a green-building product which helps to gain Energy Star ratings and LEEDs points. They are an easy solution to utilizing the Stimulus American Recovery and Investment Bill 2009 funds for the required energy-efficient construction in hospitals, military facilities, and housing. They help provide solutions for FEMA Disaster Recovery projects as well.

CAPABILITIES STATEMENT

SmartBlock, an Insulated Concrete Forming System was patented in 1986 and registered in 1992, being one of the first ICF systems offered in the United States. Mike George, a Service-disabled Veteran of the United States Air Force, has sold ICF's for eleven years, and now serves as the general manager for ConForm® Global who manufactures and distributes the green-building products. Committed to excellent customer service and satisfaction, our reputation for consistently providing prompt product delivery, training, and technical support makes us a reliable vendor. The main manufacturing plant is centrally located in Salt Lake City, Utah, so we are able to deliver our products in a timely manner, and our people are highly experienced for quality control. We provide knowledgeable people to train construction crews or individuals who use our projects. Our reputation with our customers is: the product delivers when we say it will, performs the way we say it does, and our people provide exceptional service.
